"The Nature of Art"

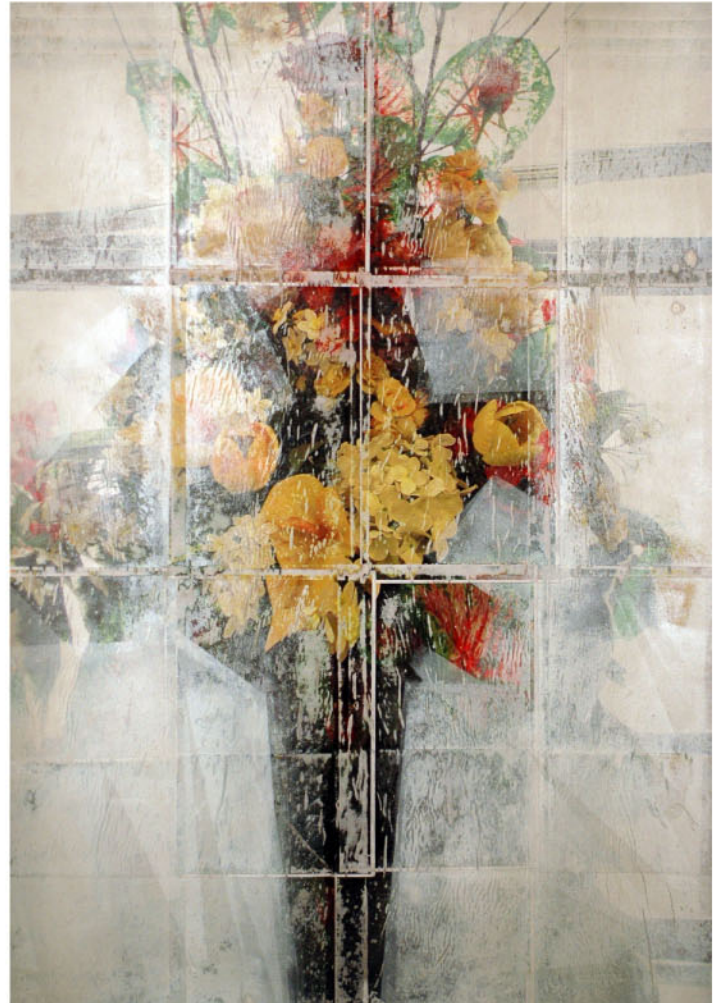

Challenging expectations regarding depictions of the natural world, the "Nature of Art" group exhibition offers a unique perspective on the oft overlooked yet familiar milieu of our surroundings. Themes in the show include water, sky, botanicals, trees, birds and farm animals, and even the microcosmic environment of insects. The transience of nature is explored while at times it seems contained within the artworks themselves. Through a variety of media, which include paint on canvas, photography and sculpture, the outside is brought inside in an extraordinary display of works by 10 different artists.
